The Democratic State convention meets in Columbia tomorrow. The candidates for delegates to the national convention seem to scarce. It is rather an expensive trip and if the Democrats do not win there will not be much to the job except the honor. It will be a nice trip.

Department Work.

Our organization works through various departments, each one under the supervision of a national superintendent. Some of these are as follows:

Scientific Temperance Instruction.—Through the persistent efforts of our intrepid leader along educational lines, Mrs. Mary H. Hunt, assisted by faithful helpers, a law has been secured, in each State, and also in the Dist. of Columbia and the Territories, requiring the teaching of scientific temperance in all schools supported by the government. This department now aims to secure the cooperation of teachers and school boards in the enforcement of these laws. We want to hear the children of our nation forewarned in order that they may be fore-armed against the use of intoxicants and narcotics.

Medical Temperance.—This department presents the teachings of eminent physicians who discard the use of alcohol as medicine, and also the danger of using fraudulent patent medicines. The principle of non-alcoholic medication is demonstrated in a number of hospitals of the present day, especially in the Frances E. Willard hospital in Chicago which is owned and controlled by an incorporated board of thirty trustees.

Temperance Literature.—This department circulates reading matter for the education of public sentiment and also for topical study in our local meetings, that our members may become familiar with all branches of temperance reform.

School Savings Banks.—This is in the interest of life's great economic and protective forces. Its mission is to establish the savings system in schools throughout the land; to give every child instruction in practical thrift; and encourage economy in all walks of life, that time and money may be applied to the higher uses and thus better the condition of mankind by instilling lessons of temperance, and good habits and industry.

The Liquor Traffic.

(By Governor Hanty, of Indiana.) Personally, I have seen so much of the evils of the traffic in the last four years, so much of its economic waste, so much of its physical ruin, so much of its mental blight, so much of its tears and heartache, that I have come to regard the business as one that must be held and controlled by strong and effective laws. I have no malice toward those engaged in the business, but I hate the traffic. I hate its every phase. I hate it for its intolerance. I hate it for its arrogance. I hate it for its hypocrisy. I hate it for its cant and craft and false pretenses. I hate it for its commercialism. I hate it for its greed and avarice. I hate it for its sordid love of gain at any price. I hate it for its domination in politics. I hate it for its corrupting influence in civic affairs. I hate it for its incessant effort to debauch the suffrage of the country; for the cowardly makes of public men. I hate it for its utter disregard of law. I hate it for its ruthless trampling of the solemn compacts of State constitutions. I hate it for the lead it straps to labor's back; for the palsied hands it gives to toil; for its wounds to genius; for the tragedies of its might-have-beens. I hate it for the human wrecks it has caused. I hate it for the almshouses it peoples; for the prisons it fills; for the insanity it begets; for its countless graves in potter's fields. I hate it for the mental ruin it imposes upon its victims; for its spiritual blight; for its moral degradation. I hate it for the crimes it has committed. I hate it for the homes it has destroyed. I hate it for the hearts it has broken. I hate it for the malice it has planted in the hearts of men; for its poison, for its bitterness, for the dead sea fruit with which it starves their souls.

I hate it for the grief it causes womanhood—the searing tears, the hopes deferred, the strangled aspirations, its burden of want and care.

I hate it for its heartless cruelty to the aged, the infirm and the helpless; for the shadow it throws upon the lives of children; for its monstrous injustice to blameless little ones.

I hate it as virtue hates vice, as truth hates error, as righteousness hates sin, as justice hates wrong, as liberty hates tyranny, as freedom hates oppression.

Eastside Union was organized at Molokah mill by Mrs. Dietrich, with eighteen members. A committee from Newberry union meets with them the first and third Sunday afternoons. We expect good work to be done by this union when they are fully equipped.

At the strawberry lawn fete which the W. C. T. Union recently gave, quite a nice little sum was realized, which goes on its mission of relieving suffering.

SUICIDE IN ANDERSON.

W. M. Dyar, of Fork Township, Blows Out His Brains.

W. M. Dyar, a white man living in Fork Township, Anderson county, committed suicide by shooting himself in the head with a shotgun. He literally blew the top of his head off, his brains being scattered over the ground for a considerable area.

So far as can be learned there was no cause for his rash act. J. J. Cromer, on whose place the suicide occurred, says that Dyar was subject to despondent spells and that he had talked several times during the past year of killing himself. He left his home just before the tragedy, telling his wife that he was going to see his brother-in-law, a mile or so away. He carried his gun with him, and instead of calling on his relative he went to a field near his home and fired the fatal shot.

Magistrate Fant held an inquest and returned a verdict that the deceased came to his death from self-inflicted wounds. The deceased was about 45 years of age and was a quiet, hard-working man.
